

Enhancing culturally and linguistically diverse patient safety and engagement in cancer settings

Are you a person from a culturally and linguistically diverse background?

Are you a patient at this cancer service or a carer for a person with cancer or have you accessed this cancer service in the past?

Researchers from Macquarie University are seeking participants to take part in a 30-45 minute interview (face-to-face, online or via telephone) for research which aims to improve the engagement and safety of patients and families from different backgrounds accessing cancer services in New South Wales and Victoria.

This research is being conducted as part of a larger project funded by Cancer Australia and the National Health and Medical Research Council (HREC approval number: 2020/ETH00965).

Would the research project be a good fit for me?

The study might be a good fit if you identify as any one or more of the following:

- Were born overseas or have parents who were born overseas.
- Speak a language other than English at home.
- Identify from a different cultural background.
- Have accessed cancer services at Western Health and/or Austin Health.

Who do I contact if I want more information or want to take part in the study?
